MINNESOTA VIKINGS HEAD COACH, 1986-PRESENT

JERRY BURNS

In 1986 Jerry Burns was named head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, thus becoming only the fourth head coach in club history. In his five years as head coach, Burns has a 44-35 regular season record and is 3-3 in the playoffs.

In 1986 he led Minnesota to a 9-7 record, finishing second in the NFC Central Division and missing the playoffs by just one game. He was the first Viking coach to have a winning record in his initial season. In his second season (1987) Minnesota qualified for the playoffs as a Wild Card team with an 8-7 record, marking the first time that the Vikings had put together back-to-back winning seasons since 1977 (9-5) and 1978 (8-7-1). In the playoffs that year, the Vikings defeated New Orleans 44-10 and San Francisco 36-24 before losing to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Washington Redskins 17-10 in the NFC Championship game.

In 1988 the Vikings finished with an 11-5 mark, the team's best regular-season record since 1976. Minnesota qualified for the playoffs as the host of the Wild Card game and defeated the Los Angeles Rams 28-17 before losing the divisional playoff at San Francisco, 34-9. Minnesota closed out the 1980's the way it began; with its first Central Division championship in 10 years, with a 10-6 record, but were again beaten by the 49ers (41-13) in San Francisco in the divisional playoff. In 1990 the Vikings fell to 6-10 and failed to make the playoff for the first time in three years.

Before being named head coach (he served as the assistant head coach in 1985) he was the club's offensive coordinator, designing the offensive scheme and, for the most part, calling the plays. He had often been called an innovator and has been credited with such things as originating the "one-back" offense and popularizing the short-passing game.

He's coached in six Super Bowls; as an assistant he guided the Viking offense in four (1969, 73-74, 76), and he was the defensive backfield coach on two winning Green Bay Packer teams (1966-67).

Burns began his coaching career at the University of Hawaii in 1951, where he served as the backfield coach for the football team and the head baseball coach. In 1952 he coached the backfield at Whittier College in California under George Allen before returning to his native Detroit in 1953 as the head football coach at St. Mary's of Redford High School. Burns was named freshman coach at the University of Iowa in 1954, varsity assistant in 1955, and backfield coach in 1957. He became Iowa's head coach in 1961 when Forest Evashevski retired to become athletic director. After leaving Iowa he coached two seasons in Green Bay under Vince Lombardi before joining the Vikings as offensive coordinator in 1968.

He was born Jerome Monahan Burns on January 24, 1927, in Detroit where he was one of eight children. He attended Detroit Catholic Central High School and went on to play quarterback at Michigan where he was a member of the 1950 Rose Bowl team. Burns graduated from Michigan in 1951, with a bachelor of science degree, majoring in physical education.

Jerry and his wife, Marlyn, have five children—Michael (3/13/56), Erin (8/27/57), Kelly (3/31/59), Kathy (8/13/60) and Kerry (11/25/70)—and live in Eden Prairie, Minnesota.

Twin Cities

The seven county metropolitan area, located at the confluence of the Minnesota and Mississippi Rivers, includes the cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Bloomington with a population of 2.2 million. You can walk in shirtsleeves in America's largest skyway system. These climate controlled skyways link downtown hotels with restaurants, shopping centers, nightclubs, theaters and party facilities. The system connects 34 city blocks in Minneapolis and 31 in St. Paul. It is the home to the Minnesota Vikings, Minnesota Twins baseball, Minnesota North Stars hockey, Minnesota Timberwolves basketball, and University of Minnesota.

Super Bowl Special Events

The 106th celebration of the St. Paul Winter Carnival will coincide with Super Bowl XXVI. It is the oldest and largest winter festival. The beauty of winter is celebrated with a varied menu of winter sports, art and cultural events and parades. It features a variety of indoor events which complement a full schedule of unusual outdoor activities including softball on ice, golf in the snow, ice sculptures, sleigh rides, skating, car racing and an ice castle. One can watch the parade from the warm vantage points of the skyway system or from the street.
